THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

BIJOU WILL GET FAMOUS SERVICE

Fox Films to Be Feature After Reopening Saturday With Beautiful Theda Bara

Announcement is made by the Consolidated Amusement Company of a new feature film service to be inaugurated at the Bijou theater within the next week. William Fox of the Fox Film Corporation—claiming to be the distributors of more high-grade feature films than any other organization in the world, will present in Honolulu a number of the leading lights in the world of Theatricals, in a number of the best obtainable stage offerings.

Among the films promised for the near future are "A Fool There Was," based on Rudyard Kipling's masterpiece, "The Vampire," and featuring Theda Bara and Edward Jose, the former being billed as the most "wickedly beautiful" woman either on stage or in films. Henri Bernstein's masterpiece, "Samson"—the drama, not a biblical play—with William Farnum, the original Ben Hur, appearing in the title role. "The Thief," another Henri Bernstein offering, featuring Dorothy Donnelly, the creator of "Madame X," and "St. Elmo," a stirring tale of a soul's salvation, a picture of the play and novel by Augusta J. Evans, being presented by a cast of stars.

The Bijou theater will be "dark" during the present week during the installation of new chairs from the lot secured from Festival Hall at the close of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and the retinting and redecorating of the house. The doors will be thrown open next Saturday evening for the initial presentation of "A Fool There Was" and the inauguration of the Fox service. At a later date Theda Bara will be seen in the Fox production of "Carmen," said to be the most spectacular exposition of this opera ever presented in motion pictures. Edward Jose, who appears in the role of the Fool in the former offering, was formerly leading man for Sarah Bernhardt.

'ADAM BEDE' NOW LEAD AT EMPIRE

Dramatized, George Elliot's great story, "Adam Bede," was rated as an outstanding success. In its film form it is said to be far more effective and appealing. "Adam Bede" will be the headline attraction shown at the Empire theater today. Miss Gretchen Hartman has been given a leading part in the production. The captivating artist takes the part of Hetty Sorrel. In the famous prison scene, Miss Hartman is seen in some of her best work on the silent stage. A splendid cast has been assembled by Frank Armstrong, the well-known producer.

George Ade comes to the front this week with a new and laughable offering. His new fable in slang, "The Fable of the Unfeathered Birds," is a vehicle in which some of the follies of the higher strata of society are held up to ridicule. In the presentation of satire through the medium of the camera Ade has few equals.

A comedy-drama woven about a compelling plot will be shown in "Cutey's Sister." This is one of Wally Van's masterpieces, with the comedian, Cissy Fitzgerald, in an important role. In the general domestic mix-up, Garry McGarry, Donald McBride and Hazel Thornton are associated in Frank Dazey's new offering. The Empire program will conclude with a wild animal picture, "The Bugle Call."

DELUGE OUTDONE.

In the big flood last month the house of T. Yoshida, a Japanese home-ster near Pahala, Kau, was washed away and his canfield disappeared as if by magic. His brother, an employee of the Crater Hotel, reports the exciting and terrible experiences of the inmates of the floating home. The Deluge and the adventures of Noah's Ark seem to play second fiddle to this Kau flood.—Kohala Midget.

By the will of Charles E. Rhinelander, Rhinelander Waldo, his nephew and former New York police commissioner, receives a life interest in $600,000.

Concrete arches resting on bed rock have been built in a New Hampshire cemetery to support gravestones in land too soft to support them itself.

'RAGS' SETS NEW PICKFORD SCORE

"Rags," heralded as Mary Pickford's "greatest" role and said to be even superior to her Tess in "Tess of the Storm Country," was given its initial Honolulu presentation at the Liberty theater last night and a big house was given an opportunity to judge whether the claim will hold water. From every indication there is a great deal to the claim but it would be hard for anyone who has come to love the lovely little Mary to ever admit that she could be sweeter or more charming than in the role of Tess; that she could mingle pathos and mirth to a greater advantage, and all who come under this category—and they are legion—will be content to admit that Mary Pickford has at least equalled her "Tess" in her "Rags."

The Liberty theater was packed last night, the rain proving no bar against the popularity of Mary Pickford. Furthermore, the entire house appeared a unit in giving to this charming little screen artist every possible ounce of applause and support. In the barroom or in the mansion Mary Pickford is perfectly at home and in none of her previous efforts is this fact borne out more strongly than in "Rags," for when Rags rises to riches she is the same sweet charmer and lovable character. Edith Barnard Delano has carved for Mary Pickford an ideal vehicle in "Rags," and Mary Pickford more than repays Edith Delano for her efforts.

Finis is written over the fascinating serial "The Romance of Elaine" with the present episode. Elaine and Craig Kennedy are united and the numerous enemies of this charming young woman are meted out a proper justice.

PUNAHOU NOTES

Miss Emily L. Parrish of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music is a new teacher in the Punahou Music School.

The newly organized Punahou orchestra under the direction of Mr. Ideler will begin holding rehearsals immediately. Mr. Ideler plans to give a concert later in the year.

The addition to the dressing rooms of the swimming tank is well under way and will be ready for use in about a week. The new addition, donated by a friend of the school, will contain six dressing rooms and two showers.

A large free hand drawing room has been made by removing the partitions between the old free hand drawing studio and the adjoining recitation room. This will make an admirable studio for the free hand drawing department which has been growing steadily under Miss Kathleen McNutt.

The United States navy will establish a wireless station on Cape Cod especially equipped to guide vessels along the Atlantic coast in time of fog.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 10.—To secure instruction in the proper method of rendering first aid to the sick and wounded, all company officers and battalion staff officers will assemble in the courtmartial room at 1 p. m. on Friday of each week during January for instruction in the subject. Capt. Clark, Medical Corps, will be the instructor.

A new hop committee has been named for the month of January, the members of which are Maj. Lenihan, Capt. Peck and Lieuts. Abraham, Barker and Calder.

The troops at the fort were paid on Friday by Capt. Van Way, Q. M., at the post exchange building. Over $25,000 was paid out.
